View Systems Teams With Investment Banking Firm Renova Partners

BALTIMORE, MD--(Marketwire -07/18/12)- View Systems, Inc. (VSYM), a rapidly growing provider of security products, announced today that it has teamed with Renova Partners, LLC, an investment banking firm headquartered in Atlanta, GA, to evaluate strategic options including raising additional capital and assessing mergers and acquisitions. Renova Partners helps recognize, renovate and unlock value in emerging growth companies.

"View Systems is a clear leader in the rapidly growing access security and recognition control industry," noted Jerry L. Robinson, Managing Director of Renova Partners. "Its technology is significantly better than the competitors who cannot operate in certain environments. The company has entered into the growing educational facilities markets which augments the sports, law enforcement and public and private facilities business. The company is now including facial recognition in its product suite. The rapid growth in new orders, expansion of long standing relationships, new customer inquiries and new product opportunities is very promising for View Systems. This is the type of firm that Renova can provide a broad array of financial advisory services and assist in their growth."

Dr. Martin Maassen, Chairman of View Systems, stated: "We are pleased to partner with Renova Partners to grow our existing business and evaluate various opportunities and alternatives with other companies and products. The principals of Renova have demonstrated success in utilizing their broad business experience in assisting companies of our size in realizing optimal shareholder returns. We are confident that in conjunction with Renova we can finance our growth and enhance shareholder value."
